Lions and Tigers and Bears - Oh My!
National Payment Corporation Goes Before Congress

Tampa, FL (May 8, 2007) - It's a jungle out there, and National Payment Corporation is answering the call of the wild at the American Payroll Association's 25th Annual Silver Safari Congress in Las Vegas, Nevada from May 22-26, 2007. In what promises to be one of the largest "migrations" of payroll professionals ever to grace Glitter Gulch, attendees will find excitement and adventure along with training and industry networking opportunities. National Payment Corporation representatives will participate in "The World's Largest Payroll Exhibit Hall," in which hundreds of exhibitors will demonstrate the best the industry has to offer for over 2,000 payroll professionals alongside the Hall's "Survivor Zone," which comes complete with an M-4 flight simulator, climbing wall, and fishing simulation.

National Payment returns to the Congress to demonstrate the cutting-edge wireless technology that has liberated payroll administrators around the country from the drudgery of stuffing envelopes and lugging around boxes of sensitive payroll information. With National Payment's Web Direct Deposit service, EZStub electronic pay stubs, and employee paycard programs, employers can save thousands of dollars each year, improve productivity, and provide employees with access to their payroll information 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

"We've entered a new era in payroll, and going paperless isn't enough. When employers see how much money and time they can save, they want to go wireless, too," explains Mark Williams, National Payment Corporation's Marketing Director.

The American Payroll Association's membership is comprised of payroll administrators, mostly managers, from all 50 states, Washington D.C., and Puerto Rico, as well as a growing international constituency. It strives to enrich the careers of payroll professionals everywhere through education, support, and recognition of payroll services as a professional discipline.
